PASTOR RESIGNS

Rev. N. F. Jones of the First Baptist Church at Dayton, Ky., Notifies Official Board—May Come to This City.

Rev. N. F. Jones, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Dayton, Ky., tendered his resignation from the pastorate of that church at a meeting held Wednesday. The resignation goes into effect the last Sunday in September.

Rev. Jones has received a call from the First Baptist Church of this city and by his resignation it is supposed that he will accept the pastorate of this church. He will preach here Sunday morning, but will be unable to stay for the evening service. It is said that he is favorably impressed by the Maysville field, the opportunities being very great here.

Rev. Jones has been urged to devote his entire time to evangelistic work, with Rev. David W. Hughes, of Newport, Ky., as soloist and chorus director. This team would be a strong one as they have conducted several revivals together. They conducted a most successful revival in the First Baptist Church of this city two years ago and all were impressed greatly by these two men.

The final outcome of the matter will not be known for some time probably but all are hoping that Rev. Jones will accept the call to the Maysville Church.

TRAIN LATE

C. & O. train No. 5 scheduled to arrive here at 6:15 a. m. was five hours and forty-five minutes late yesterday morning. The delay was caused by the large floods in West Virginia in the past few days.

The members of the Holy Name Society will meet next Sunday morning at 6:45 o'clock on Limestone street.

ALICE NIELSEN

The Noted Soprano Will Return to Maysville About the First of September to Fill Her Engagement—Exact Date to Be Announced Later.

Secretary Thomas P. Boone of the Maysville Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from the managers of the Redpath Chautauqua Bureau, informing him of the fact that Miss Alice Nielsen, who was unable to sing on the last night of the Chautauqua, would return to this city about the first week in September, the exact date of which to be announced later.

It will be remembered that upon Miss Nielsen's arrival here she was suffering a severe case of laryngitis and was absolutely unable to sing. She came before the audience and explained that she was entirely willing to sing but also utterly disabled. Her accompanying artists gave a splendid concert but the audience was almost entirely cold to them. Miss Nielsen lost about four days' concerts by her sickness and these dates will be filled also during the same week. From here she will go to Ashland, Ky., and from there to Bluefield, W. Va.

All ticket holders will be admitted on the night of Miss Nielsen's return. Those holding reserved seats will again be in a favored position. It is not known at present where the concert will be held.

The Redpath people certainly come up to their word. Upon hearing that Miss Nielsen was sick on the night of the concert, Mr. McKean, the superintendent, began to make immediate preparations for her return engagement.

ABERDEEN BOY

Son of Mrs. Ida K. Spears Weds Miss Clara D. Lindsay of Portsmouth, Ohio—Pretty Nuptials.

The home of Mrs. T. E. Lindsey, 414 Court street, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding, this afternoon, at half after 1 o'clock when her attractive daughter, Clara D. Lindsay and Mr. Charles R. Spears, employed at the Portsmouth Engine Company, were married in the presence of the immediate relatives. Rev. J. W. Dillon officiated with the impressive Methodist Episcopal ring service. The rooms were beautifully decorated in pink and white roses, ferns and smilax.

The bride was attired in a pretty gown of white net built over white tulle with a beautiful corsage bouquet of bride roses. After the ceremony delicious pink and white ice cream and cake was served at a beautifully adorned table. An exquisite French basket of pink roses and maid-on-hair ferns adorned the center. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for a three weeks visit to Cleveland, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other places of interest, after which they will return to Portsmouth to make their home with the bride's mother. She wore a handsome suit of sand color trimmed in blue with hat and shoes to match. The bride is an attractive and popular young woman and for the past two years has been teaching in the third grade at the Fourth street school. The groom is a fine young man who has spent the past three years in Portsmouth and is the son of Mrs. Ida Spears of Aberdeen, Ohio.—Portsmouth Times.

BIG RIVER EXPECTED

The local rivermen are expecting a big river within the next few days. They say that the river will go to twenty-five feet probably. This will shut down all work at the dam for two weeks or more and will set back the work a great deal. The cofferdam is flooded at a stage of about seventeen feet. Preparations will probably be made today for the high water. The Kanawha River in West Virginia has reached a stage of fifty feet caused by the heavy rains. However these reports are unofficial and nothing definite can be learned until the Federal Government issues a warning.

MEN NOT WANTED

The men who were arrested here Wednesday and held as witnesses for the murder case at Russell, Ky., are not wanted as witnesses the local police were notified yesterday. The officials claim to have a clear case against the negro that did the shooting without the testimony of these two men.

THE AMERICAN DEAD

"Carrizal has given up a part of its American dead." If from the depths of ocean and from graves beyond our borders our murdered dead should be returned to us there is hardly a city or town in the land that would not hold a funeral service. During the past three years the number of Americans who have fallen victims to the weakness and vacillation of the present Administration runs into the thousands.

The making of war that is not war and keeping of peace that is not peace is a method of procedure that demands its toll of human lives.

When the advocates of Mr. Wilson's re-election assert that he has "kept us out of war" let them consider the price that we have paid for the maintenance of a pseudo peace.

President Wilson at the obsequies held in honor of the American marines killed at Vera Cruz delivered a most eloquent address. That was a long time ago, and still our dead from Mexico are being returned to us.—New York Sun.

From the mountain top, not from the bottom of the valley. This is the view-point of political problems which Mr. Hughes says Republicans should take. It is an opposite figure. Hughes is himself a mountain-climber and his nomination has taken his party up to the point whence the promised land can be clearly seen.

The fact that 10 years ago the farmers wanted high taxes put on pleasure carriages, does not prove that they would stand for assessing automobiles and gasoline now.

BRIEF SENTENCES FEATURING THE SPEECH OF ACCEPT- ANCE OF CHARLES E. HUGHES.

America First and America Efficient.

We are too great a country to require of our citizens who are engaged in peaceful vocations the sort of military service to which they are now called.

We cherish no illusions. We know that the recurrence of war is not to be prevented by pious wishes.

We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation.

Adequate preparedness is not militarism.

During this critical period, the only danger of war has lain in the weak course of the Administration.

The Nation has no policy of aggression toward Mexico. We have no desire for any part of her territory.

We propose that in the competitive struggle that is about to come the American workingman shall not suffer.

This representative gathering is a happy augury. It means the strength of reunion. It means that the party of Lincoln is restored, alert, effective.

The dealings of the Administration with Mexico constitutes a confused chapter of blunders. It is a record which cannot be examined without a profound sense of humiliation.

We must take Vera Cruz to get Huerta out of office and trust to other nations to get our own citizens out of peril. What a travesty of international policy!

Destroying the government of Huerta, we left Mexico to the ravages of revolution.

I stand for adequate Federal Workmen's compensation laws.

The Administration was to seize and punish Villa for his outrage on our soil. It has not punished any one; we went in only to retire.

I favor the vote for women.

LAST LUSITANIA NOTE UP AGAIN

Formal Document Will Be Published
By Permission of Berlin—Acceptance Likely—Communication Deals Only With the Principles Involved.

Washington, August 9.—The United States has asked for and received permission from Germany to publish as a formal document the last note in the Lusitania case, which was submitted by Count Von Bernstorff nearly six months ago. The State Department's intention to publish the communication is believed to indicate its acceptance.

Acting Secretary Polk declined to discuss the plan of the United States in regard to the Lusitania case or to disclose when the document would be given out.

Indemnity Not Discussed
The communication, dated February 16 last, details only with the principles involved. It does not mention the amount of indemnity Germany is to pay, or how or when the amount will be agreed upon. It simply "recognizes liability," promises to make reparation by the payment of indemnity, gives assurances for the future and declares that reprisals, such as ruthless submarine operations, must not be directed at other than enemy subjects.

Until now there has been absolutely no discussion between Count Von Bernstorff and the State Department or between Ambassador Gerard and the Berlin Foreign Office in regard to the question of indemnity. The German government is represented as feeling that, having signified its willingness to make reparation, the United States must make the next move toward securing it.

The communication, when submitted by Count Von Bernstorff, was regarded as being tentative and the United States refrained from accepting it because of the declaration by the Central Powers of their intention to treat as warships armed merchant ships of the entente allies. During the discussion of this declaration and the negotiations over the attack upon the channel steamer Sussex and other vessels carrying American citizens, the communication which stands as Germany's formal reply to the last American Lusitania note has lain in the State Department unacted on.

It has been indicated by officials of the department recently that it apparently is evident that Germany was living up to her promises in the Lusitania note the wording of which occupied much of the time of Secretary Lansing and Count Von Bernstorff over a period of many weeks and that it should be published. The Berlin Foreign Office offered no objection.

NATIONAL LEAGUE WILL SUPPORT ITS ARBITERS

New York, August 9.—National League club owners, who gathered here today at a special conference which lasted for more than four hours, went on record as strongly supporting the league's umpires. Stringent action was taken in defense of the arbiters and the support of rules governing the department of players while on the field.

At the conclusion of the session President John K. Tener said that the case of Johnny Evers and Manager Stallings of the Boston National League club was "an incident that is closed."

"In the furtherance of sportsmanship, coaching by players from the bench must and will be restricted," said President Tener. "The players are not to be allowed to address remarks to or about umpires, opposing players or spectators."

BEQUEST GIVEN MORGAN

Largest Ever Received, With One Exception—Inheritance of Vanderbilt Was the Biggest on Record—In Later Years Elder Banker Gave Away Much Money.

New York, August 8.—As the principal heir of the estate of J. Pierpont Morgan his successor as head of the house, J. P. Morgan, receives the largest bequest made to any one now living and with a single exception, possibly, the largest bequest made at any time. J. P. Morgan by the terms of the will receives $53,000,000.

When Commodore Vanderbilt died his son, William H. Vanderbilt, received the greater part of the Vanderbilt estate, approximately $90,000,000. This, after the death of William H. Vanderbilt, was divided equally between his sons, Cornelius and William K. Vanderbilt. Therefore the Vanderbilts of the third generation did not receive by bequest as much as about $8,000,000 as Mr. Morgan receives from the estate of his father.

House Prestige Sought
There may have been larger individual bequests than this, although not any representing accumulations by bankers. The presumption in the financial district is that it was partly the wish to enable his heir to be thoroughly fortified so that he could maintain the prestige and strength of the Morgan house which persuaded the father to leave the bulk of his estate to the son.

There are many features of the detailed inventory of the Morgan estate, which since the day of publication have been much discussed in financial and business circles. Attention has been called to the fact that the aggregate value of the estate was a little in excess of $78,000,000, while $69,500,000 was the portion of the estate upon which New York state will receive an inheritance tax.

Rule Governed Morgan
So many of the men who have accumulated large fortunes since the Civil War days left estates which are appraised from $70,000,000 to $80,000,000, or a little more, that it seems as though an undiscovered but influential rule controlled the accumulations of Mr. Morgan. Russell Edge's estate was appraised at about $75,000,000. Jay Gould's estate was in the neighborhood of $75,000,000.

The difference between Mr. Morgan and others who accumulated fortunes of this size was that in the later years of his life he seemed to be not particularly concerned about accumulation. His son, J. P. Morgan, may know how much his father gave away. Whatever the amount was, it was sufficient, presumably, had he kept the money to have considerably increased his estate.

Bank Stock Holdings Light
Leading private and international banker as he was, and great as was his influence with banks, Mr. Morgan appears not to have been as heavy an investor in bank common stock as was commonly supposed to be the case. The investments he did make were remarkably successful, as, for instance, he owned 2,300 shares of the Bankers' Trust Company stock, which at his death were worth $1,081,000. He was also an investor in the Central Trust Company, although, under the management of the late Frederick Olcott, it was sometimes thought that this trust institution and the house of J. P. Morgan were occasionally in antagonism. He was the owner of stock in the largest of the Chicago banks, in one Philadelphia bank and in three national banks, one of them being in Philadelphia and two in New York, as well as in the largest of the trust institutions.

There were many curious items in the appraisal report. What was Mr. Morgan doing, it has been asked, when he invested a million and a quarter in the preferred stock of the Manchester (England) ship canal company, now worth much less? The presumption is that this represented some friendly accommodations or aid. Notwithstanding his relation to railroads, he seems not to have been a very large stockholder, excepting in the case of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, whose stock now is very much less in market value than at the time Mr. Morgan accumulated it.

Interest in Niagara Venture
One item in the appraisal tells a story of Mr. Morgan's interest in the development of the great electric plant at Niagara Falls. There was general knowledge that it was due to his assistance in financing the proposition when it was first brought to his attention by Francis Lynde Stearns that the corporation was put upon its feet. Mr. Morgan was always gratified to know that his undertaking had been of great service in developing American industries. Such, for instance, as the carbundum plant at Niagara Falls.

While the nominal value of worthless stock, colloquially known as "cats and dogs," was about $8,000,000, nevertheless Mr. Morgan was not alone among the makers of great fortunes in accumulating large amount of worthless securities. Some of these investments represented kindly assistance to friends, and may have been made by Mr. Morgan with the certainty that they were really to be gifts. E. H. Harriman had so large an amount of securities of no value that he said, to a friend shortly before his death, that these made it possible for him to get a fairly accurate statement of his real estate. John Rockefeller is presumed to have accumulated a good many worthless securities. It is no imputation upon the ability of a great banker or business man that there should be found in his estate many securities of little or no value.

One item in the appraisal clears up a mystery that has been of great interest to students of American literature. Mr. Morgan at some time bought the manuscripts of the journal and diaries of Henry D. Thoreau, 39 volumes in all. These were appraised at $12,500. What had become of these journals and the manuscripts had for years been a mystery. The understanding was that they were turned over by Thoreau's sister to Rev. Mr. Blake, of Worcester, for use in compiling four volumes, entitled, "Spring," "Summer," "Autumn" and "Winter."

Whether these diaries passed from Mr. Blake to some one else or after his death were in the possession of his family has never been known nor is it now known from whom Mr. Morgan bought them. The price alone tells a renewed story of the fortune that was in Thoreau's writing. His own returns from them were very small, and he was obliged to take back his first book and work hard for a year or two to pay for its publication. Since his death various publications of his works represent an outlay of considerably in excess of a hundred thousand dollars, and the manuscripts of his journals were deemed so valuable as to justify Mr. Morgan in paying presumably $12,500 for them.

14,903 DEATHS IN STATE TO JULY 1

A total of 14,903 deaths in Kentucky during the first half of the year 1916 has been reported to the Bureau of Vital Statistics. This does not include, however, a number of delayed certificates, which will increase that number materially.

Deaths from pneumonia, bronchopneumonia and influenza were comparatively high because of the wide prevalence of those diseases during the spring months. Deaths from typhoid fever and summer complaints, however, have been comparatively low.

A special inspector of the bureau is now making a canvass looking up possible violations of the law to prevent any county from sending in an incomplete record.

Preliminary vital statistics report for six months of 1916 follows:

Under one year, 2311; one to five years, 960; sixty-five years and over, 4,398; tuberculosis of lungs, 2,070; other tuberculosis, 255; pneumonia, bronchopneumonia, 1,678; whooping cough, 111; diphtheria, croup, 126; scarlet fever, 10; meningitis (non-tubercular), 222; measles, 65; typhoid fever, 194; diarrhoea, enteritis (under two years), 313; diarrhoea, enteritis (over two years), 154; hookworm disease, 3; influenza (grippe), 835; puerperal septicemia, 92; smallpox, 1; cancer, 526; violence, 697; pellagra, 41. Total deaths 4,903; total births, 28,606; total stillbirths, 1,314.

BLOOD OF CAMELS USED TO QUENCH THIRST OF SUFFERING TURKS DURING RE-TREAT ACROSS DESERT

London, August 9.—The Turkish army, which was routed by the British at Romani, east of the Suez Canal, suffered terrible hardships in the march across the desert, according to a Reuter's Cairo dispatch quoting stories of Turkish prisoners. The dispatch says that batches of prisoners continue to arrive in Cairo.

Lack of water was one of the principal causes of the suffering of the Turkish troops. In some cases they suffered so from thirst that they killed their camels and drank the blood.

The prisoners say the Turkish losses were exceedingly heavy, as they attacked in mass formation in ignorance of the strong defenses of the British. The devastating machine gun fire with which the assault was met was the first indication the prisoners had of the task that confronted them.

According to one of the troopers a Turkish detachment which surrendered first killed their German officers.

Most men have a pet grievance that they always exhibit after the third drink.

NEW SHIP PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

Washington, August 9.—Secretary Daniels announced today that plans for the ships to be built under the pending naval bill were so far advanced that contracts for all but the battle cruisers and the ammunition ships can be advertised within a week after the measure has been signed by the President. A tentative sketch of the ammunition ships was completed today and plans for the battle cruisers are progressing favorably enough to make it certain that they can be advertised before October 1.

The Secretary's announcement outlined the characteristics of the four new battleships Congress is expected to authorize. They will carry main batteries of eight sixteen-inch guns each; as against the twelve fourteen-inch guns of ships of the California and Tennessee classes. Otherwise they will duplicate the Tennessee class, with a displacement of 32,000 tons. Vessels of 36,000 tons carrying ten sixteen-inch rifles have been considered but many naval experts opposed the larger type unless there was a corresponding increase in speed. The new ship will be required to make twenty-one knots an hour, as is the case with the Tennessee class.

BREMEN OFF VIRGINIA CAPES, BELIEVED WILL COME IN TODAY

Norfolk, Va., August 10—Reports that the German submarine Bremen, sister ship to the Deutschland, is off the cape and will pass into Hampton Roads within the next twenty-four hours were current here tonight and were believed in German circles in close touch with the Eastern Forwarding Company, agents for the submarine line.

One rumor that gained wide circulation and credence was that the Bremen would come in early tomorrow morning. The weather is cloudy and threatening and offers an excellent opportunity, it was pointed out for the submarine to avoid the allied cruisers standing off the cape.

DEMOCRATS SUCCEED TO REPUBLICAN CURVES

Washington, August 10—The annual House baseball game went Republican today by a score of 18 to 13. It was the first Democratic defeat in four years.

The Republicans boasted after the game that their well-balanced team was responsible for the victory, but the Democrats laid it at the door of a county chautauqua. They said the star Democratic pitcher, Representative Yates Webb, of North Carolina, who for years has held the Republicans at his mercy, fell over a bench while reaching out to shake hands with an admirer after a speech in Virginia yesterday and badly sprained his left arm. This alibi aroused derision among the Republicans, who pointed out that Webb is a right hander, but the Democrats replied that it was a left arm injury that retired Mathewson from the game, though he, too, is a right hander, and with that they rested their case.

The Democrats used fourteen players. Nichols, of South Carolina; Rouse, of Kentucky, and Harrison, of Mississippi, starred for them.

Speaker Clarke and Republican Leader Mann were honorary umpires, but they never left the grandstand. "Uncle Joe" Cannon consumed three boxes of crackerjack while he yelled encouragement to the Republicans.

ROOSEVELT'S NOMINATOR TO WORK FOR WILSON

New York, August 10—Bainbridge Colby, who nominated Theodore Roosevelt for the Presidency at the Progressive National convention at Chicago, tonight declared himself in favor of the re-election of President Wilson. In a letter to Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Mr. Colby accepted an invitation to act on a Progressive committee which is to have a co-operative relation with the Democratic Campaign Committee.

Mr. Colby asserted that the opposition to the President's re-election "proceeds from an unregenerate Republicanism," of which Charles E. Hughes is the "decoy and retriever." If Mr. Hughes were elected, Mr. Colby added "the Old Guard" would "rope him and tie him as they did when he was governor in Albany reducing him to plaintive utility."

"AMERICA FIRST AND AMERICA EFFICIENT."

We come to state in a plain and direct manner our faith, our purpose and our pledge. This representative gathering is a happy augury. It means the strength of reunion. It means that the party of Lincoln is restored, alert, effective. It means the unity of a common perception of paramount national needs. It means that we are neither deceived nor benumbed by abnormal conditions. We know that we are in a critical period, perhaps more critical than any period since the Civil War. We need a dominant sense of national unity; the exercise of our best constructive powers; the vigor and resourcefulness of a quickened America. We desire that the Republican Party as a great liberty party shall be the agency of national achievement, the organ of the effective expression of dominant Americanism. What do I mean by that? I mean America conscious of power, awake to obligation, erect in self-respect, prepared for every emergency, devoted to the ideals of peace, instinct with the spirit of human brotherhood, safeguarding both individual opportunity and the public interest, maintaining a well-ordered constitutional system adapted to local self-government without the sacrifice of essential national authority, appreciating the necessity of stability, expert knowledge and thorough organization as the indispensable conditions of security and progress; a country loved by its citizens with a patriotic fervor permitting no division in their allegiance and no rivals in their affection—I mean America first and America efficient. It is in this spirit that I respond to your summons.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

The gauge marks 13.5 this morning and rising rapidly.

The Courier will pass up tonight bound for Pomeroy.

The Greenwood will down this afternoon for Cincinnati.

A big river is expected due to the heavy rains in West Virginia during the past few days. The river may go to a twenty-five foot stage. Very little drift is running at present.

COOLER WEATHER

According to the government forecast cooler weather will hit this part of the Ohio Valley within twenty-four hours. This will be welcome news to a great many who have been suffering with the excessive heat of the past month. The forecast says a cold wave but that does not mean snow.
